Arriving by car

There are two marked accessible parking spaces on site; one at the front of the main building and one sited near to the new glass fronted entrance.

We have very limited parking and this varies depending on events happening in the building. We cannot therefore reserve or guarantee parking and you will need to locate nearby parking instead.

On street metered parking next door on Flass Street, Sutton Street and Waddington Street (60p per half hour, free after 6pm).

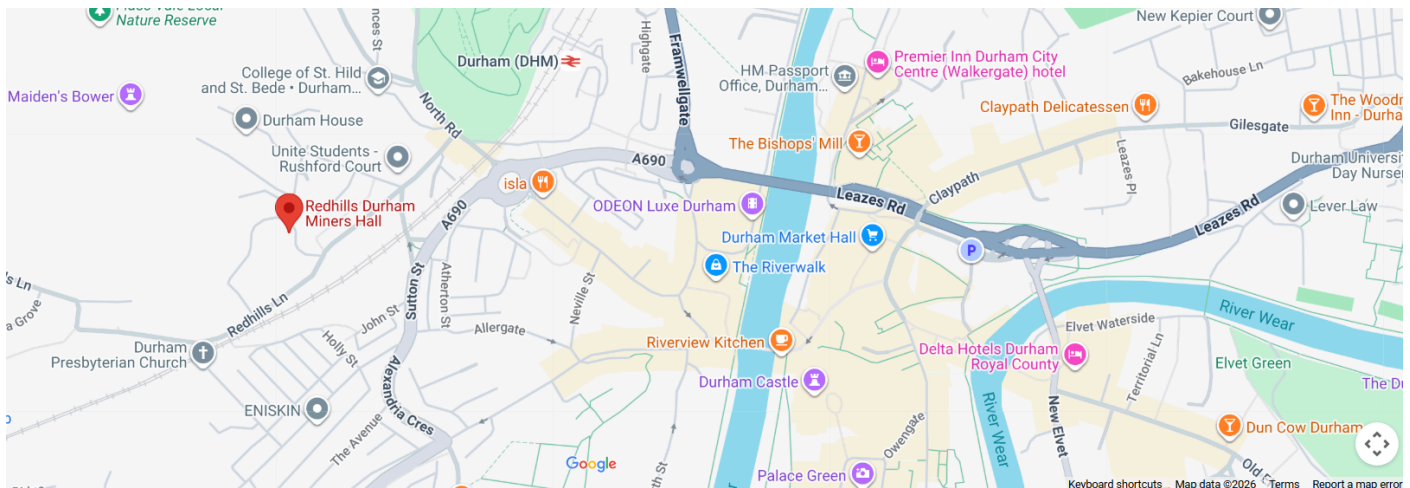

Redhills' site operates a one way vehicle system. Drive past the main entrance gates on Flass Street and continue up Redhills Lane. After two speed bumps, take the first right up a narrow lane. Keep The White House on your left and follow the lane around to the right, behind the row of houses.

Very limited parking is available on the left hand side gravelled verge of this lane. Once parked, walk down the lane and around to the right, access is via the automated glass doors.

To exit please continue down hill, past the main entrance and back onto Flass Street.

Our entrance

Redhills has a new front door to the right hand side of the main building (when facing the building at the front). If arriving on foot, walk through the main entrance gates and around to the right of the building, access is via new automated glass doors.
